

CORNISH LANGUAGE WEEKEND 2019

Friday 5th April to Sunday 7th April

Sandy Lodge Hotel, Hilgrove Road, Newquay, Cornwall, TR7 2QY

Kowethas An Yeth Kernewek will be hosting another Cornish Language weekend for all those interested in the Cornish language. The language weekend offers a relaxed and friendly atmosphere in which complete beginners through to advanced speakers can enjoy a range of classes, activities and talks to suit ALL levels. Entertainment and an excursion are also planned.

Now a well-established popular part of the weekend, a 'Dydh Tregedna' will take place on Friday 5th, so that more established speakers can join in the fun. If you sign up for this only Cornish is allowed so...be warned, but don't be afraid! The now equally well-established Cramming Day will also be held on Friday – suitable for anyone wishing to revise and consolidate what they've learnt during the year as well as anyone taking Cornish Language Board examinations in 2019. Sessions will be held at all levels and, for those taking the exams, cover everything needed with plenty of practice.

The Sandy Lodge Hotel in Newquay is a family run hotel situated about a quarter of a mile from the railway station. All rooms are en suite, with television and tea and coffee making facilities. Parking is available in the hotel and in the adjacent St Anne's Road. The hotel has a residents' lounge, bar and dance floor – which we will use over the weekend.

The hotel has single rooms, double/twin rooms and family rooms which have either a double and a single or a double with bunks. The cost for two nights' half board in double, twin, single or family rooms is £100 per adult or child 16 or over, £50 for children from 4 to 15 years (children are free up to 3 years).

Accommodation is on a half board basis with dinner on Friday and Saturday nights, and breakfast on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

You may also choose to take advantage of an optional buffet lunch on Friday, Saturday or Sunday. The cost of this for each day is £8 per adult or child 16 or over, and £5 per child 15 or under. You must order and pay for lunches on the hotel booking form, even if you are not staying at the hotel.

And if you will be attending the weekend but not staying at the hotel you can join everyone else for dinner on Friday and/or Saturday night at a cost of £14.25 per adult or child 16 or over per meal, £8 per child under 15 or under per meal, which you must book in advance on the hotel booking form.

The hotel will issue vouchers for lunches and extra evening meals, which you will need to hand in at the dining room before each meal. These vouchers should be collected from reception when you arrive at the hotel (at check-in for those of you staying at the hotel).

Special dietary or other requirements should be specified on the hotel booking form.

Alternatives are available at extra cost. In particular the hotel is sometimes able to provide accommodation on Thursday night for those people attending the Cramming Day or Dydh Tregedna, and you may be able to extend your stay into the following week. Please contact the hotel as soon as possible if this is of interest – contact details are on the second page of the accommodation form.

The registration charge payable to the Kowethas is £28 per person or group for the weekend for members of the Kowethas or £33 per person or group for the weekend for non-members. A group means a family or a group of students aged 16 to 25 years old. All family members or students in a group must be booked on a single form.

There is a 50% discount if you attend for only one day or part of a day.

This charge covers entertainment on the Saturday night and the cost of the lessons, teaching materials, photocopying, coffee or tea in the morning breaks and the Friday afternoon break, and ad-hoc expenses. It also covers, for the under 16s who are not charged, the cost of the Saturday evening entertainment.

There is a charge of £5 for the Dydh Tregedna, and £15 for the Cramming Day.

The registration charge (above) is NOT payable if you only attend the Dydh Tregedna or Cramming Day on the Friday.

If you would like additional tickets for the Saturday evening entertainment, perhaps for family or friends not attending the weekend, these can be purchased for £5.00 in advance or £7.00 at the door on the night.

It is very important that both we and the hotel know in good time how many people will attend and what their particular requirements are, especially with respect to Cornish lessons. There are TWO forms that you need to complete BEFORE 28th February 2019:

- 1. The Accommodation booking form, which must be sent direct to the hotel – payment details and the address are on the form.
- 2. The Entertainment and Lessons booking form, which must be sent to the Kowethas – payment details and the address are on the form.

The hotel cannot process the entertainment and lessons booking form, and the Kowethas cannot book the hotel accommodation, lunches and extra evening meals for you, so please do ensure that you send the forms to the correct address!

Note also that although the deadline for bookings is 28th February, and the rates quoted cannot be guaranteed after that date, it really will help us enormously if you book as early as possible to give us more time to tailor the weekend to meet everyone's needs.

For many of us involved in promoting Kernewek, at whatever level, the annual Pennseythen Gernewek is the highlight of the year. The committee of Kowethas an Yeth Kernewek is sure that will be no exception, and we look forward to seeing you in Newquay.
